802A (Venue)

Name(s) of Teacher(s) Incharge: Prof. Foram Joshi, Prof. Muriel Dsouza

No. of Participants: Male: 0 Female: 8

Description of Activity:

This event, focused on exploring female friendships as depicted in literature and experienced in real life.

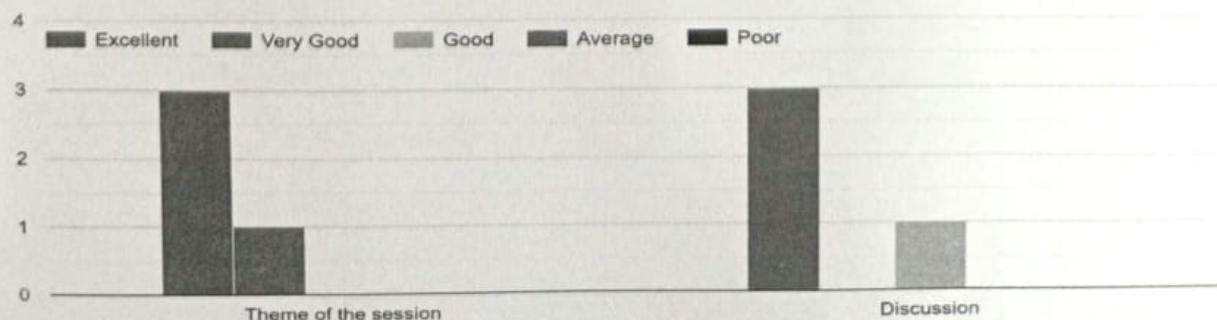

The meeting began with the screening of two short films, "Auntyji" and "Juice", which provided a foundation for discussing the representation of female friendships in contemporary media. Following the films, participants engaged in a discussion that examined these portrayals and their implications. The conversation then shifted to a literary analysis of female friendships in Khaled Hosseini's A Thousand Splendid Suns, Thrity Umrigar's The Space Between Us*, and their impact on personal experiences.

The session concluded with an interactive activity where participants placed their thumbprints on a "Tree of Life," symbolising their commitment to celebrating and nurturing female friendships. This symbolic gesture aimed to reinforce the bonds of sisterhood and the collective support for these relationships.
